

May 21, 2013

Ohio EPA recognizes two Public Water Systems for their efforts in Protecting their Source of Drinking Water

---

The Village of Leipsic in Putnam County and the Burr Oak Regional Water District in Athens County were presented with Certificates of Recognition by Ohio EPA for their recent completion of a Source Water Protection Plan. A Drinking Water Source Water Protection Plan promotes strategies for protecting their well fields from potential contaminant sources.

At left, Richard Kroeger (Ohio EPA) presents the certificate to the Leipsic Village Council. From left to right: Mayor Kevin Benton, Water Superintendent Eric Steingass, and Richard Kroeger).

In the picture on the right, Steve Saines (Ohio EPA) presented the certificate to Burr Oak Regional Water District Board of Trustees. From left to right: Jay Ferguson (board secretary), Dave Kangus, Roger McCauley (board president), Marilyn Horner (board vice president), John Travato (board treasurer), John Walker (Hocking County Commissioner), and Ed Keister (Perry County Commissioner).

Does your community have a plan to protect your source of drinking water? CLICK HERE to find out.