

Heidi Griesmer, Deputy Director of Communication
Ohio Environmental Protection Agency

As deputy director of communication, Heidi Griesmer acts as the primary contact for communications issues at the Agency. In addition, she manages the Agency's Public Interest Center, which handles media relations, public involvement and digital communication for the Agency.

Griesmer has worked at Ohio EPA for 20 years. She most recently served as the acting deputy director of communication. Previously, she served as the media relations manager in the Public Interest Center. She joined the Agency as a public information specialist. Prior to joining Ohio EPA, Heidi worked at Anne Klein & Associates, a public relations firm in Mt. Laurel, NJ.

Griesmer earned a bachelor's degree in journalism from Ohio University.