Subscribe for RSS Updates of Algal Bloom Advisories

Harmful algal bloom advisory updates are now available via RSS feed from the State of Ohio's website www.ohioalgaefinfo.com

Really Simple Syndication (RSS) saves users time because they don't have to visit the website on a regular basis to check for updates. When new advisories are posted on the HAB advisory list page, updated information from the feed is automatically downloaded to the subscriber's browser. Subscribers can check the feeds in Internet Explorer, Google Reader or another similar program on their computer or smart phone.
