

How can you protect your watershed?

Through water conservation by...

- Turning off the water when brushing your teeth.
- Take short showers instead of baths or long showers, and make sure your showerhead is a water-saving kind.
- Run washing machines and dishwashers only when they are fully loaded.
- When you have to wash your car, turn the water off while you scrub and turn it on only for rinsing, also wash it on the lawn to prevent run-off.
- Fix a faucet as soon as it starts to drip.
- Test toilets in your home for leaks.
- Use a new kind of toilet that needs less than two gallons (7.6 liters) to flush, or put a water dam in the old toilet tank.

By reducing your contribution to water pollution by...

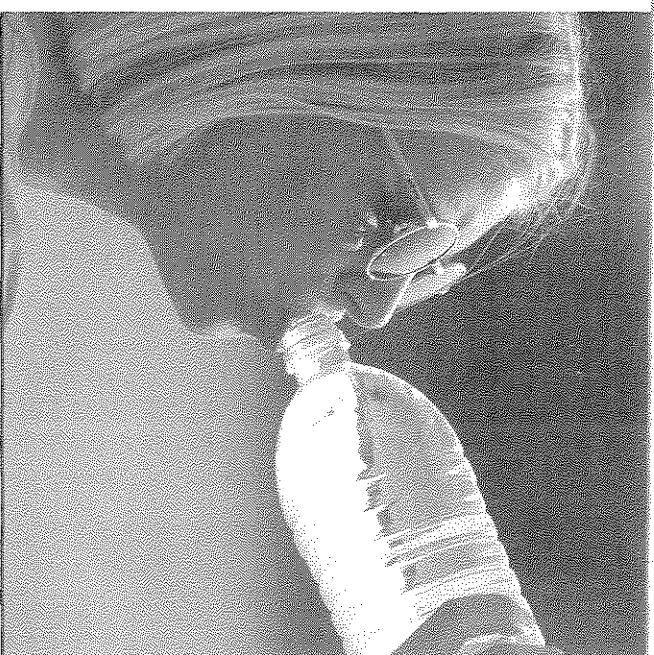

- Compost yard wastes.
- Keep litter, pet wastes, leaves, and debris out of street gutters and storm drains.
- Keep your lawn natural and avoid chemicals. Let your grass clippings re-fertilize your lawn or use organic fertilizer.
- Dispose of used oil, antifreeze, paints, and other household chemicals properly, not in storm sewers or drains.
- Clean up spilled brake fluid, oil, grease, and antifreeze. Do not hose them into the street where they can eventually reach local streams and lakes.
- Control soil erosion on your property by planting ground cover and stabilizing erosion-prone areas.
- Encourage local government officials to develop construction erosion/sediment control ordinances in your area.
